EMPLOYMENT REPORT

Nonfarm Employment Reaches Record Level in November as Jobless Rate Rises to 4.1%

Arizona's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 4.1 percent in November. While the state's jobless rate increased six-tenths of one percent from October, the November rate is at the same level as one year ago and below the national rate, which remained at 4.7 percent for the third consecutive month.

Arizona's economy added 14,400 jobs in November to reach a record total of 2,753,500 nonfarm jobs. The gain was less than what is normally expected for the month of November. But over-the-year employment growth for Arizona (1.5 percent) remains above the U.S. growth rate (1 percent). The state's service-providing industries added 17,600 jobs while the goods-producing cluster lost 3,200 nonfarm jobs.

Seven of 11 major supersectors gained jobs and four had losses. Four supersectors reached record levels — trade, transportation and utilities; educational and health services; government; and other services.

Government gained 1,700 jobs in November, setting a record at 433,800. Most job gains occurred in local government (1,200) with local government education adding 1,400 jobs. Federal government added 300 nonfarm jobs.

Professional and business services lost 1,300 jobs, the industry's third monthly decline in the last five months. The employment services sector pared 1,000 jobs. Professional, scientific and technical services remained the same at 136,600.

Leisure and hospitality added 2,500 jobs in November. This supersector is only 100 jobs below its record level set in April 2007 (see graph on page 2).

Educational and health services posted a gain of 1,500 jobs to arrive at a record of 306,300 jobs. The majority of the jobs were in health care and social assistance (1,300). Ambulatory health care services gained 600 jobs.

Construction (-3,100) lost the largest number of jobs among all industries, as the slowdown in the residential market continued. Construction of buildings was down 500; heavy construction lost 100. Harshes hit was specialty trades (-2,500).

Other services had an increase of 700 jobs, returning this industry to a record level (107,700). Repair and maintenance sectors are included in this major supersector.
